Two Petaluma girls, Pvt. Lorraine de Neuf and Pvt. Barbara J. Dondero, who recently left here for the Marine Corps Women's Reserve recruit depot at Camp Lejeune, North Carolina, were graduated Saturday from boot camp. Both graduated from the local high school and enlisted in the marine corps in April. They will now be assigned to a marine corps school for specialized training.

Pvt. de Neuf was selected as a right guide for the platoon and with others led 1200 girls down the field for review at the graduation.

Mrs. Georgia Sharp sent a telegram of congratulations to her daughter on the day she was graduated, while Mr. and Mrs. George Dondero talked to their daughter over the phone extending greetings.

Barbara Dondero Stars In Armed Forces Shows 10-19-45

In a recent issue of the San Jose Mercury-Herald there appeared a picture of Barbara Dondero, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Dondero of Petaluma, and Martin George of New York, standing in uniform before a microphone giving out with comedy for armed forces. The cut-lines which went with the picture were: "SMILING PAIR—Marine Pfc. Barbara Dondero of Petaluma and S/Sgt. Martin Grove of Flavortown, N. Y., provide plenty of comedy with their gags and parodies during Armed Forces Variety show to be held tomorrow night in the civic auditorium. Pfc. Dondero was a San Francisco radio entertainer before enlisting in the service. Sgt. George teamed up with her in numerous camp shows after he had served with Col. James Roosevelt's famous 4th Marine Raiders. The pair are among 60 performers in the production."

Pfc. Dondero has appeared on many programs, doing comedy in armed forces all-star variety shows for various organizations up and down the coast.
